

MISSION AND GOALS

OF THE CDC NATIONAL IMMUNIZATION PROGRAM

Mission

To prevent disease, disability, and death in children and adults through vaccination

Goals

Prevent Disease

Reduce disability and death in the U.S. and globally by eradicating, eliminating, or controlling vaccine-preventable diseases

Achieve Maximum Coverage

Raise and sustain high vaccine coverage levels for all recommended vaccines

Establish Effective Partnerships

Work with new and existing partners to help us accomplish our mission and achieve our goals

Conduct Reliable Scientific Research

Provide scientific leadership in vaccine-preventable disease control, vaccines effectiveness and safety, immunization best practices, and immunization education and communication

Implement Effective Immunization Systems

Build, evaluate, and promote systems and methods that help us ensure effective use of vaccines and achieve high immunization coverage rates with recommended vaccines

Ensure Vaccine Safety

Continually monitor and assess the safety of recommended vaccines and immunization practices

Promote a Positive National Immunization Program Work Environment

Foster a healthy, productive work environment that contributes to achievement of our mission
